

42nd Journées de Microéconomie Appliquée

CALL FOR PAPERS

Grenoble Applied Economics Laboratory (GAEL) is proud to organize the 42nd Applied Microeconomics Days, to be held on June 4 and 5, 2026

on the Campus of Université Grenoble Alpes at Saint-Martin-d'Hères.

The purpose of this two-day conference is to bring together academics and researchers to present and discuss their ongoing research, and to stimulate interaction and cooperation between them. Topics with an interest in the broad area of applied microeconomics are covered: consumer and demand analysis, behavioral and experimental economics, industrial economics, organizational economics, innovation economics, labor, education, migration economics, health, family economics, public economics, spatial economics, transportations, finance, risk and insurance, development economics, welfare economics, agricultural economics, environmental and resources economics, law and economics, applied micro econometrics, public policy evaluation, etc.

The keynote lecture will be given by Jérôme Adda, Professor of Economics at Bocconi University.

The JMA's job market will give the opportunity to PhD candidates and post-doctoral researchers to signal themselves in the program as candidates for the next recruitment campaigns.

The Revue économique will devote a special issue for this conference in September 2027.
